DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it is too short. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).
2. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Claim Objections

3. Claims 18 and 19 are objected to because of the following informalities: in line 5 of claim 18 and in line 14 of claim 19, applicant is suggested to replace --said-- with --that-- respectively. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 2611

5. Claims 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

6. Claim 11 recites the limitation "the control unit " in line 2. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

7. Claim 11 recites the limitation "the topology determining mode" in lines 2-3. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter, which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Claim 1 recites a single mean or step. Applicant should duly note that a single step claim, i.e., where a step recitation does not appear in combination with another recited element of step, is subject to an undue breadth. The claim does not covers every conceivable structure for achieving the stated purpose was held nonenabling for the scope of the claim because the specification discloses at most only the step known to the inventor.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1 and 9-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Cole et al U.S. Patent No 7,006,445 B1.

As per claim 1, Cole et al teaches an xDSL modem for data transmission between a central office and a customer device over a subscriber line, the xDSL modem comprising a topology determining unit configured to determine the topology of the subscriber line (see abstract and fig.1 and col.10, lines 58-67 and col.11, lines 5-12).

As per claim 9, Cole et al teaches the customer device is a telephone (see col.5, lines 15-20).

As per claim 10, Cole et al teaches a probing signal to detect whether the telephone is on hook or off hook (see col.3, lines 28-30).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 2-8 and 12-15 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
5. Claims 16-17 are allowed over the prior art of record.

Art Unit: 2611

6. Claims 18 and 19 are objected, but would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the above objection.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Heidari et al U.S. Patent No 7,076,010 B1 teaches a method and apparatus for time domain equalization.

Rezvani et al U.S. Patent No 6,965,657 B1 teaches a method and apparatus for interference cancellation.
